THE LORD'S PRAYER.

Our Father—

By right of creation,

By beautiful providence,

By glorious adoption,

Who art in Heaven—

The throne of thy glory,

The portion of thy children,

The temple of thy angels.

Hallowed be thy name—

By the thoughts of our hearts,

By the words of our lips,

By the works of our hands.

Thy Kingdom come—

Of peace to defend us,

Of grace to refine us,

Of glory to crown us.

Thy will be done on earth as it is in Heaven—

By us, without compulsion,

Universally, without exception,

Merely, without deception.

Give us this day our daily bread—

Of necessity, for our bodies,

Of eternal life, for our souls.

And forgive us our trespasses—

Against the sinfulness of the flesh,

Against the power of the world,

Against the craft of the devil.

As we forgive those that trespass against us—

By embracing our property,

By forgiving our wrongs,

And lead us into temptation, but deliver us from evil.

Of overwhelming afflictions,

Of worldly enticements,

Of Satan's devices,

Of error's seductions,

Of sinful affections.

Forthine is the king, the power, and the glory forever.

Thy Kingdom, governs all.

Thy power, subdues all.

Thy glory, shines above all.

Thy will be done.

Thy will be done.

We are authorized to announce that H. H. ABERNATHY, of Giles, is a candidate for County Judge of Trigg county. Election August 1883.

We are authorized to announce that Capt. Ralph Sheldon, of Nelson county, is a candidate for re-election as Register of the Land Office, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Election August 1883.

Capt. Ralph Sheldon, Register of the Land Office, has settled with the State to Jan. 1st, 1883.

We have a pleasant surprise in store for the readers of the Springfield, before the idea of February.

The new Mayor of New York, has refused to allow the "Passion Play," which represents the crucifixion of Christ, to be produced in the city.

There are now four foreign actresses and singers in the United States who are making fortunes—Patti, Nilsson, Modjeska, and Langtry. They make $15,000 or $20,000 each per week.

The trial of Frank James, indicted for Independence, Mo., for robbery, has been set for the May term of circuit court. His bail has been fixed at $3,000, but he will not attempt to give it, preferring to remain in jail, as he would almost surely be arrested on more serious charges.

The Georgetown Times has begun its seventeenth volume and has been enlarged from a seven column to an eight column sheet. It is one of our best and most carefully edited exchanges and Mr. Bell, its editor, has our very best wishes for continued prosperity.

The Sears-Ginsess case, which Ben Ridgeley, of the Commercial characterizes in dingo novel style, "Shot in the Foot, or the Lay of the Last Marksmen," has been amicably dropped and proceedings stopped on both sides. Col. Sears is pursuing the even tenor of his way as fighting editor of the Louisville Post and John Gaines is running a wide-awake daily in Bowling Green. They have wept, each upon the other's neck, and in the language of Col. Sellers are now "fer-end, bur-others."

There is some fear that Knott will not be the nominee for Governor and that Wesley will. It is now claimed that Knott is the candidate of the L. & N. Railroad. He can vindicate himself of this charge, and should do so. The convention is hearing, and only a few more votes may turn the tide against him—State Sentinel.

What do you mean by Knott's being the candidate of the L. & N. Railroad? What is it he has done that you call upon him to "vindicate" himself from? You make no charge against him and yet you want him to rise and explain. If you know anything against Mr. Knott, make your charge and then call on him to answer it and then throw out insinuations about what people "claim," who are doubtless his enemies and ready to "claim" anything to bring about his defeat. There is no purer, more upright statesman in Kentucky than right Knott and if Cannon's chances for the Legislature are as good as his for Governor, he is as good as elected as a dingo is for a ginger cake.

The steamer Cimbric, of the Imperial German Line, from Hamburg to New York, was sunk on the 20th by a collision with the British steamer Sultan, a short distance out from Hamburg. There were 477 persons on board, only 56 of whom were saved. The officers of the Sultan have been arrested for criminal carelessness. Only four of the boats could be lowered and these were quickly filled, while hundreds went down begging for help. It is the most disastrous ocean horror that has occurred for years and following so closely upon the Russian circus fire, the American hotel holocaust and other smaller calamities it seems that this is to be a year of terrible accidents and visitations. Most of the persons lost on the Cimbric were foreigners, some of them emigrants coming to America. A dense fog enveloped everything and it is said that the Captain of the Sultan made off immediately, not waiting over fifteen minutes after the collision, although hundreds of people were drowned.

Judge Brown has not as yet applied to the Governor to send troops to protect Neal and Craft when they are to lead to Grayson, in Carter county, to be tried, next month. It is understood that he will not do so unless he finds after opening his court that there will be an attempt made to lynch the prisoners. The people of Boyd and Carter counties have assured him that they would organize a volunteer force, if necessary, to protect the prisoners. There is great indignation in Ashland on account of the conduct of the troops in October and Maj. Allen is almost as much detested as Neal and Craft. Many of the State troops are eager and anxious to go and remain at the expense of the Commonwealth for a month or more. If troops be sent the Governor should put them in charge of some older and more efficient officer than Maj. Allen, who will not permit them to fire upon helpless old men, women and children. Beardless boys, mountain liquor and leaden bullets make a mixture which is dangerous to let run at large, unless it is

AND SO FORTH.

A girl in Helena, Ark., has three tongues. What do we hear of her or her? Don't all speak at once. Allison Holland as "The Man on the Corner," is getting in some good work in the Eminence Constitutionalist and rapidly developing as a humorist.

Congress was asphyxiated when John White became a member. If you can't see the point you must be asphyxiated yourself.

There is a new game called the "nose game." A hole is cut in a curtain and a nose is thrust through it and the players guess whose nose it is. All who fail must go behind the curtain and poke their noses through for inspection. It is a game the Geo. Dittus couldn't play without white-washing his proboscis. In vermilion hue could never be unrecognized.

Zeno Fahrenheit Young was sick last week and unable to attend to his duties as weather prognosticator. The following paragraph from his Weather Bulletin explains the cause of his indisposition:

"Several young fellows got the grand bounce last Sunday. One sent a card to call on a young lady, and the answer she returned was all the eters and cards he had ever sent her."

E. T. Norris, a school trustee of Jefferson county, was tried on a charge of wearing no suspenders, or socks, and the charge was sustained, but not deemed sufficient to procure his dismissal. If going without socks is considered cause for arresting a man in that county, country editors had better be careful when they visit Louisville.

The following epistles explain themselves:

HENDERSON, KY., Jan. 18, '83.

My Dear Sir:

For Heaven's sake don't send your last paper to my girl. It will ruin me. Yours imploringly, TOM L. CANNON.

HENDERSON, KY., Jan. 25, '83.

Sir:

I am ruined. Zeno Young copied your sketch, which was, alas! true, and sent a marked copy to my girl, or rather my late girl. She has quarantined against me. Yours in Despair, TOM L. CANNON.

Kenna, the new senator from West Virginia, is just thirty-five years old and is the youngest member of that body. Monroe entered the senate at the age of thirty-two, and Franklin Pierce at thirty-three. Jno. J. Crittenden was barely thirty when he landed in the senate, and Stephen A. Douglas was thirty-four. Hayne, the adversary of Webster, was a senator at thirty-two, and William H. Dayton, of New Jersey, at thirty-five. Albert Gallatin reached the senatorial toga at thirty-five; Aaron Burr at thirty-five; Rufus King at thirty-three, and Robert J. Walker at thirty-six. This roll furnishes food for consideration for young men. Great issues are up for analysis. Study and prepare yourself to be an intellectual factor in the work, is the advice that wisdom gives every young man—Nashville World.

The following complimentary allusion to Hon. Jno. G. Carlisle is from the Southern Kentucky Republican published at Somerset, and shows in a measure the high esteem in which he is held even by his political opponents:

"There is no Democrat in Kentucky whose general political policy we admire more than Mr. Carlisle, the candidate for Speaker from Kentucky. Mr. Carlisle is a well-balanced man, and one whose character, as far as we can learn, has been kept free from the mire and filth of politics. We notice that the Kentucky press favor him fifteen to one as against Joe Blackburn. If Kentucky can control the Speakership Mr. Carlisle will go in with a big boom."

The action of Col. Jones' friends in Morgan county, in holding a convention last week, is transparent. Morgan county is the home of Capt. Henry Jones and it was intended to give Col. Jones a send-off in the mountains among Capt. Henry's friends. It is now being heralded abroad that the first battle has been won by Col. Jones, but if his friends think it will amount to much they are mistaken. In the first place no legal convention was held, as the day appointed for county conventions is yet three months off. Capt. Henry, himself, if we are correctly informed, will not support Col. Jones, and there is no significance whatever in the premature action of Morgan county.

Deputy Marshal Holland, keeper of the jail at Kansas, City, Mo., was dismissed from office because he permitted Frank James to attend the theatre at Independence, being guarded by the officer in charge.

In order that our readers may form some idea of the damage done by fire, we give the record of last week's fires as culled from the daily papers.

The question whether a person falling from a great height is a physical or a moral question, has been recently investigated by Arthur Stradling, in England, who has made some experiments in falling. His conclusion is that it is impossible that asphyxiation occur, in such cases, and that if the person who falls is ever killed before reaching the ground, it is most likely the result of a nervous shock. The career of Sam Patch and other famous jumpers, shows that a man may fall a great distance through the air without losing his breathing power, and during the Milwaukee hotel fire some of those who jumped from the windows were yet alive even after striking the ground. The popular notion that people who fall from a precipice or a house-top are killed by the descent, appears in view of these facts to be unfounded.

During the year ending January 1st, rain, sleet or snow fell on our hundred and forty-two days, the total precipitation being sixty-four and ninety-two one hundred-thirty of an inch. The greatest depth of rain fell during May a trifling over eleven inches, and during June, rain fell on the greatest number of days, twenty. During April, rain fell on but eight days, and December was the driest month of the whole year, not quite one and one-fourth inches of rain or snow falling. The past season has been a remarkably wet one, but the total precipitation is not equal to those of two previous years since 1840. The rainfall of 1849 was a trifle over sixty-five inches; and 1866 gave more than sixty-six and one-half inches. The rainfall of 1866 and 1868 both exceeded sixty inches—Lexington Enterprise.

Miss F. A. Brown was suddenly called to Pembroke last week by the illness of a cousin.

Miss Emma Thompson, returned Sunday from an extended visit to friends in Cadiz.

Mr. Jeff Killbuck has accepted a position with Messrs. McKee & P. Pool, on Nashville street.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe M. Frankel left yesterday for a two weeks' visit to friends in Louisville.

Mr. Will H. Lyons, representing the Remaker-Moore Paper Co., Louisville, was in the city yesterday.

Judge F. W. Decker, W. B. Randolph, and Esq. J. W. L. Smith of Princeton, were in the city Friday.

Pontester, Geo. B. Cowan, who has been quite sick for two or three weeks is still confined to his room.

Mr. Clint Higgins, of Princeton, was in the city yesterday, the guest of Mr. V. M. McCreath.

Hon. Jas. W. Jones, of Ringgold, Tenn., Representative from Montgomery county, was in the city last week.

Mr. John Stewart left Wednesday evening for Hopkinsville, where he goes to take charge of the Telephone Exchange at that place. Success to John. His place in the Telephone Exchange in this city is now presided over by Sterling Acres—Tobacco Leaf.

Dr. Tucker, of Sydney, New South Wales, a distinguished specialist now in this country inspecting the lunatic asylums, by order of the Australian Government, visited the Western Lunatic Asylum last week. He was entertained by Dr. Rodman.

Hopkinsville High School.

This popular institution, under the charge of Maj. J. O. Ferrell, is now in a most prosperous and flourishing condition. Maj. Ferrell has been for ten years at the head of this school, and his constantly growing patronage shows that his school is appreciated not only at home but abroad also. The following young gentlemen have matriculated since Christmas: J. B. Adkinson, of Tennessee; Geo. D. Dalton, Hopkinsville; S. R. Elliott, Tenn.; H. H. Goley, county; D. Hillman, Nashville, Tenn.; H. P. Pierce, county; Lee Watkins, Trigg county; Geo. J. Wharton, Trigg county; South Carolina, Georgia, Texas, Tennessee and Kentucky are now represented in the school. The number of pupils has increased so largely that Maj. Ferrell has been obliged to secure an assistant teacher, and Prof. Geo. O. Hunt now teaches a number of classes in the afternoon. Sixteen young men board with Maj. Ferrell and most of his pupils are large boys and grown young men. We are glad to see this school prosper and hope it will continue to flourish like a green bay tree.

DIED.

CASKY: On the 25th inst. at his residence in this county, John Casky, in the 51st year of his age. Mr. Casky was one of the oldest citizens of the county, having been born in Pulaski county, Ky., April 2, 1802. His parents moved to this county when he was seven years old. He was never married but remained at the family homestead with two unmarried sisters and two brothers, all of whom are dead except one sister. They accumulated considerable wealth and the estate has never been divided. The three brothers agreed that the estate should remain undivided until all were dead. The matter was taken into the courts by the heirs of the deceased brothers, and is now in the Supreme Court. The estate, which will now be divided, is worth probably $50,000. The deceased was a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church. He was buried at the family burying ground near Casky Station.

SAITER: At the residence of her brother, Mr. S. L. Saiter, near this city, on the 24th inst. Miss E. J. Saiter, and old and highly esteemed lady.

The next quarterly meeting of this district will be held at the Methodist church next Sunday with Rev. Geo. H. Brainerd, the presiding elder, in

HERE AND THERE.

W. F. Patton, Life Insurance.

Norwood & Gant, fire insurance.

The roads are in a fearful condition.

The Howe building is going up rapidly. The walls are above the second floor.

The trains were several hours behind time nearly every day during the late cold spell.

The plank walk beyond the new bridge has never been replaced since the bridge was finished.

Paper bags, both Anchor Square and Sichel Bottom, at this office, cheap. Frank seeks a specialty.

The special term of Circuit Court began yesterday, for the disposal of civil cases only.

Mr. J. R. Price, formerly of this city, now of Paris, Tenn., was married on the 7th of December to Miss Mollie Hall, of that city.

A postponed meeting will begin at the Second Presbyterian church 10 Thursday night with Rev. W. D. Morton assisting the pastor.

Congress has allowed our esteemed friend, Mr. J. F. Summers, of Trigg county, a war claim amounting to $212. The bill allowing the claim gave Kentucky $33,000.

Mr. R. B. Rock, formerly of Rock & Pierce, Evansville, is now with the hardware house of Hart & Co., Louisville, having taken the place formerly filled by Joe Mulhatten. He visits Hopkinsville every 60 days.

If a new pavement is not put down on Bridge street from Main to the post-office, some enterprising flyer must ought to start a hack line, as it is almost impossible to walk in rainy weather and the people are obliged to have their mail.

James Hargraves, the faithful servant of the shaving public, has moved his shop to the stand under Thompson's hardware store. A warm cozy shop with such workmen as William Smith, Nelson Cross and Jim the proprietor, is not to be slighted by people of taste.

A wolf from Madisonville came down to the city to howl Sunday, and while proceeding with his bacchanalian orgies in the dining room of the European Hotel, drew a small 22 calibre pistol, and fired two balls into the ceiling. His friends took it out and the authorities didn't get an opportunity to make it contribute to the sinking fund of the police court.

Miss Alice Ellison, second daughter of Mr. R. L. Ellison, of Paris, Tenn., who spent a part of last summer at Cerulean Springs, was married at Paris on the 10th inst. to Mr. D. W. Godwin, of Ft. Worth, Texas. The bride is pleasantly remembered by the Cerulean guests who met and admired her for her many estimable traits and winning manners.

Four negroes confined in the Greenville Jail for minor offences, escaped last Saturday night and are still at large. They made wooden keys with which they unlocked the cell door, and then dug out under one of the windows and let themselves down by blanket ropes on the outside. Stroud, the recently arrived murderer, was in the jail but did not get out.

The young people of the city, of a literary turn of mind, have recently organized two clubs. One composed principally of the young ladies and gentlemen of the southern portion of the city, was organized two weeks ago by the election of Mr. Geo. O. Hunt, president, and Miss Marie Barnes, secretary. It will hold its next meeting at Judge Pease's, Saturday evening, at which time a suitable name will be given to it.

Prof. Seaman gave three evening performances, and an afternoon matinee last week to tolerably fair houses. His shows are the best of the kind we have ever seen, and gave entire satisfaction to his audiences. He did all his bills represented, which is saying a good deal. His dissolving views were the best ever seen in the city, and "Electra," or walking and dancing in mid air, was simply wonderful.

The old brick blacksmith shop on the southwest corner of Russellville and Virginia streets is being torned in again, the same wall being used. This is the first instance we have had to record where a building destroyed by the fire has not been replaced by a better one. The building is the property of Mr. Brown, and will be occupied by Mr. D. Steel, who had a shop in it before the fire.

We have been handed the following notice for publication:

"According to a letter from a German printing house, directed to Rev. Braun, the cost to print a pamphlet of 42 pages would amount, for 2000 copies, $85; 5000, $165. The book, 'True information for German settlers about Southwestern Kentucky,' especially about Christian county," which Rev. F. L. Braun, Lutheran pastor in composing, will be of the size of 40 or 50 pages in print, and the expense for printing it will be higher than the sum named above. As the Christian county people will have the profits derived from it in the way of the immigration of industrious Germans, they should readily contribute towards the expenses of having it printed soon. The book should then be mailed to and sent abroad in Germany. Christian county needs immigration of industrious Germans. If the book cannot be published on account of want of funds, Christian county and the State of Kentucky try again.

Tell, an eleven year old daughter of Mr. Row Macquese, is the boss dancer at the local saloons.

Should this escape the huge waste basket I may at some future time try again.

Mr. W. W. Redford has bought an interest in the implement and confectionery business of Metcalf & Bro., and the firm name will be Metcalf, Bro. & Redford. The newly admitted member is a popular young planter of south Kentucky, well known in the city and county and will be quite an acquisition to the already reliable and enterprising firm. The gentlemen will occupy the warehouse on Cross, Ducker & Dryer's carriage shop on Virginia street, with their implement stock, which will be the most complete in southern Kentucky. The large room will be fitted up especially for them and all their machinery will be run by an engine in the building so that farmers can see the workings of each machine they buy. The confectionery department, wholesale and retail, will be enlarged and kept full and complete in every respect. The firm is composed of young men of energy and excellent business qualifications and they have our very best wishes for abundant success, which they will undoubtedly merit and attain.

The performance given by the Boston Operatic Minstrels last Saturday night was one of the best minstrel shows ever given in the city. It was one continued season of mirth and laughter for three hours, and the large audience was more than satisfied with the evening's entertainment. They were greeted by a good house despite the inclemency of the weather.

Our friends W. T. Davis, of Fruit Hill, and Floyd Giles, of Moorings Springs, each have our warmest thanks for a club of cash subscribers in last week. Our list is increasing steadily and rapidly, many subscriptions coming in by mail.

If you want the South Kentuckian and can't get it to your door in the bad weather send the money by mail, in cash or stamp, and we will return receipt and ticket. Don't ask us for credit, we have to refuse good men all the time.

Messrs. Walker, Long & Garnett have placed a nicely framed sign over one of their insurance companies over the steps leading to their office on Main street. They have a handsome arrangement of office and represent one of the best lines of companies in the city.

A number of young ladies have organized a broom drill company, and Capt. W. E. Smith has been drilling them for a week or ten days. They are preparing for a competitive drill with the boys of "Co. D."

The Kentucky Minstrels, of this city, will give a performance at Trenton to-night. They intend visiting several of the surrounding towns. They give a pretty good show, which is well worth the price of admission charged.

We have for sale a lot of gas fixtures which were used about four months and which we will sell at a sacrifice.

Another increase in the population of the city last week. Ask Tom Long about it.

The lightning express was taken off the railroad last week during the heavy blockade.

A slight wreck a mile or two north of town delayed the morning freight some hours yesterday.

A postponed meeting is now in progress at the Christian church.

Rev. Mr. Francis preached at the Second Presbyterian church Sunday.

Road notice of J. M. Hipkins elsewhere.

Another wedding is on the tapis.

A pretty good crowd was in town yesterday.

MARRIED.

GRESHAM-BENSHAW: At the residence of the bride's father, Mr. J. C. Benschaw, near Sinking Fork, in this county, Thursday Jan. 25th, 1883, Mr. Jas. Gresham to Miss Mattie Benschaw.

SINKING FORK.

Emigrating Church Meeting—Gospel—Dancing School, Etc.

I have been reading your paper for several weeks past, and discover you have no correspondent from this place, and thought probably a few happenings at Sinking Fork might be interesting to some one of your many readers.

Your little has been done in the way of farming for the present year. I would to say that Robt. Hunt has left us and gone to your city for the purpose, I suppose, of educating his children. Mr. M. D. Moscham will also leave about the first of March, and settle on the farm he has lately purchased near the forks of the Ohio and Princeton roads.

Mr. Robt. Moscham, of our community, has taken a position with Messrs. Kille & Co. of your city. Bob is a clever, industrious fellow, and will no doubt give satisfaction to his employers.

Mr. James Colard and E. L. Dorris, D. D. of Fairview, paid a flying visit to friends in this vicinity last week.

A meeting was held at Brick Church last Saturday for the purpose of electing a preacher for the year. I didn't hear whether they succeeded in their efforts, but hope they did, for the church has been in a very bad condition for twelve months.

Prof. Walter Owen will begin a dancing school in this neighborhood as soon as he can get scholars enough to justify him in teaching. Walter is fully competent to teach, for he has practiced under the well-known Frazier Owen several seasons.

"The Duchess Undine, or Stein by a Woman's Lie," by Hanson Penn Dixie, just published by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia, is a novel sure to attract more than ordinary attention, for a better or more original romance has not been published for a long while. Its author's characteristics in it for special popularity at the present time, and there is about it an air of culture and refinement which cannot fail to make a strong impression on the reader. The story is French in tone, and the major portion of the action takes place in Paris amid the gayeties of the highest circles of Parisian fashionable society, though there are scenes in the United States, and Helen, the heroine, the Duchess Undine, is a remarkably beautiful woman without a heart, the kind of "Jolie Dame Sans Cœur," and her beauty is actually fatal to all her suitors, whom she invariably destroys. A man of wealth or actually brings to death. Her love of pleasure and power is insatiable, and her character the highest drama ever depicted in an enchanting and poetic fashion, the young girl's devotion forming a happy contrast to the Duchess Undine's treachery. The characters are all powerfully drawn, and the plot is wonderfully clever, the various mysteries of the novel being impalpable until in due course explained. "The Duchess Undine, or Stein by a Woman's Lie," should be read by all who can appreciate a romance of phenomenal excellence. That it will have an enormous sale cannot be doubted. It is published in a large square duodecimo volume, bound in paper cover, price 75 cents, and will be found for sale by all bookellers, by all News Agents everywhere, and on all railroad trains, or copies of it will be sent to any one, to any place, at once, post-paid, on remitting the price in a letter to the publishers, T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia, Pa.
